Web Development Weekly Course Outline

PHASE 1

Week 1

What you will be learning

This is the beginning of a wonderful 12 week journey into web development. This week initiates you into the realm of web development. It takes the learner to the mountain and helps him/her take the first step, because the first step is the most important thing.

Skills you will learn

- Structuring text and other content(eg. media) on the web with HTML
- Adding style(design) to the structured text with CSS
- Building a personal website
- Finding resources on the web
- Publishing your first website using github pages

Yes you are deploying your website on the web, so anyone can access. Now how awesome is that ? !!

Note

A project based tutorial will be posted on the slack platform in pdf format (web version will be available soon) . It will guide you through the introduction and the use of the skills listed above in a friendly and exciting way.
